THIS IS THE telescope wreck at Pacheco, Argentina, where over 235 persons died when an express ran into the rear of a commuter train. Over 110 were injured in one of the world's worst train mishaps. The express was traveling at high speed when it crashed into the stalled commuter train troubled by mechanical malfunctioning. (AP Wire-photo)

Train Crash Toll Rises To 236

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The Argentine government raised the death toll in Sunday's train crash to an estimated 236 Monday night, making the wreck the second worst railroad disaster in history.

"Our present figure is 236," said Dr. Ezequiel Holmberg, the secretary of public health. "It is an estimate because we are still working."

He said 110 injured persons were hospitalized.

The federal police had put the toll earlier at 160 dead, and the Interior Ministry had estimated 125 killed. But officials said Holmberg's announcement represented the official view of all the government agencies involved in rescue and salvage.

A passenger express completing a 1,000-mile run from the northern city of San Miguel de Tucuman barreled at high speed into the rear of a stalled commuter train jammed with weekenders returning to Buenos Aires. Most of the dead and injured were aboard the commuter train.

Although the commuter train had been stalled for half an hour with mechanical trouble, the express apparently was not signaled to stop or slow down, officials said.

The worst train wreck in history occurred on Dec. 12, 1917, at Modane, France: a passenger train was derailed and 543 persons were killed.

$20,000 Home Out Of Reach For 101 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — Half of all Americans cannot afford to live in a $20,000 house, according to a "thumbnail sketch of the failure of our system" drawn for Congress.

The study by the House Banking and Currency Committee staff shows that 28.4 million households, 101.1 million people, cannot afford payments on a $20,000 mortgage.

"Virtually all moderate income families have been priced out of the housing market," said committee Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., at the opening hearing Monday on legislation to help home buyers.

New York Mayor John Lindsay, the first witness, said the nation's housing goals are "simply a joke," that a higher priority for the housing crisis is needed and the root of the problem may be in the administration's tight money policy.

"We cannot fight inflation at the sacrifice of desperately needed housing. Indeed," Lindsay said, "if we ignore the need for housing, using inflation as our excuse, we will accomplish nothing, except to make those least able to afford it bear the intolerable burden of inflation, by denying them the help they must have to find decent housing."

In the "sketch" Patman attacked "today's ruinous high interest, tight money economy." A $20,000 mortgage over 30 years at present interest of 9 per cent amounts to $38,000 in interest. The grand price for the home would be $58,000.

Even at these rates, Patman said, the mortgage money still is not available in government programs, savings and loan banks, insurance companies.

Hoffa Lawyer Takes Own Life

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Z. T. Osborn Jr., 50, one of Teamster President James R. Hoffa's defense lawyers, was found shot to death in a garage at his Nashville home Monday.

Osborn died of a self-inflicted single gunshot wound, police said. His body was found by Osborn's wife when she returned home.

Osborn, a former Nashville city attorney and assistant U.S. attorney, was disbarred by state and federal courts after he was convicted in 1964 of attempting to bribe a juror in the 1962 Nashville federal court trial of Hoffa.

Hoffa had been on trial in U.S. District Court in Nashville on charges of taking money from a Detroit trucking firm in violation of the Taft-Hartley Act. However, the case was declared a mistrial when the jury reported it was unable to reach a verdict.

Later Hoffa, Osborn and others were indicted on charges of tampering with the Nashville trial jury.

Secrecy Shrouds Talos Missile Used In 1968

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secrecy surrounds it, but officers are saying privately one of the most successful Navy feats in Vietnam was a 1968 missile launch some admirals feared might undermine the Paris peace talks.

Involved, ironically, was the Navy's Talos Missile, one of a series of ship-to-air weapons highly criticized in Congress in recent years as unreliable.

The Navy turns aside all questions about the incident, but sources report Talos missiles destroyed two North Vietnamese MIG jets in May and June of 1968.

The shots occurred in a combat setting in the Gulf of Tonkin but actually were more of a staged test of Talos' capability than a battle action.

The ship that launched them was not under attack nor, officers believe, did the MIG's suspect they were being targeted.

Fighting Slows As 'Tet' Nears

SAIGON (AP) — Half a dozen small Viet Cong attacks were reported in the Saigon area Monday night, and military action elsewhere in Vietnam tapered off as the Tet holidays approached.

The South Vietnamese Foreign Ministry announced that government forces would observe a 24-hour cease-fire for the lunar new year beginning at 6 p.m. Thursday. U.S. officials said American forces would go along. The Viet Cong had earlier announced a four-day cease-fire beginning at 7 a.m. Thursday.

The incidents reported during the night in the Saigon region included two attacks on government offices and the second ambush in a week of a U.S. convoy on South Vietnam's most traveled highway.

Rifle and rocket-grenade attacks on the government offices at 11 miles northwest and 12 miles southwest of Saigon killed four Vietnamese and wounded 19 others, the government said.

One American military policeman and one Vietnamese civilian driver were wounded in the ambush 10 miles northwest of Saigon on Route 1. Damage was reported light. One Viet Cong soldier and a civilian said to be a Viet Cong sympathizer were killed. Sources said the Viet Cong soldier was carrying a weapon and the civilian had a pocket full of paper Viet Cong flags.

Stinging Cold Numbs Midwest

By The Associated Press
Bitter-cold weather numbed the Great Plains and the Midwest today for the third time in less than a month and aimed a wave of falling temperatures into the East and South.

Cold wave warnings were in effect for much of the nation from the Mississippi valley to the Appalachians. The Weather Bureau indicated the arctic cold would bring similar warnings east of the Appalachians before tonight.

Temperatures staggered to 20 to 30 below zero in portions of the northern plains and upper Mississippi valley. Thermometers in International Falls, Minn., registered —30 shortly after midnight.

The mercury fell to zero as far south as the middle Mississippi valley and parts of the Ohio valley.

Violent thunderstorms raked portions of the Southeast ahead of the advancing cold. Cloud-bursts swamped some northern Florida areas. Nearly 3 1/2 inches of rain hit Gainesville Monday evening. Jacksonville got nearly 2 inches.

Winds of 60 miles an hour slashed St. Petersburg during a heavy thunderstorm, and widespread hail pounded the Pensacola area.

The rains extended up the Eastern seaboard to the Middle Atlantic states where record midwinter mild temperatures prevailed.

Wind gusts of 65 miles an hour slapped New York City during storms which soaked the metropolitan area Monday with 1 to 3 inches of rain.

Nixon Put On Spot:

Russians Increasing Arms Aid To Egypt

Newest Soviet Jets Seen Part Of Shipment

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, already under Israeli pressure for more military aid to offset increasing Arab strength, was faced today with a report that the Soviet Union intends to boost arms shipments to Egypt.

The administration was said Monday to have received a message from Moscow within the last two or three days saying Egypt was getting the new arms aid because of help given Israel by the United States.

While informed diplomats said they could not confirm details of the new Soviet aid, they indicated it would be no surprise if Egypt gets some of Moscow's newest jet fighters, the MIG23.

No Immediate Reaction
There was no immediate official U.S. reaction to the report, but President Nixon already was on record as concerned about recent French decisions to provide new warplanes to another Arab state, Libya.

The President told a news conference Friday he would decide within 30 days whether to meet an Israeli plea for more arms help. The Soviet decision will cause more pressure to make that decision quickly.

The Israeli government has received about half of a previous purchase of 50 U.S. Phantom jets with the remainder to be delivered over the rest of the year. Jerusalem also has asked to buy another 50 of the planes under more favorable financial terms.

U. S. Gets Blame

The Soviet message was said by diplomatic sources to have blamed the United States for recent Israeli attacks on Egypt. The sources indicated Moscow decided to increase aid to Cairo because of the Israeli military activity.

Although there have been recent meetings between Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin and U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers, there was reason to believe the Soviet arms message was delivered by the Russian embassy directly to the White House.

This would emphasize the seriousness with which the Soviets view the smoldering Middle East situation.

Hears Negro Plea For Aid To 'Poor'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon heard a Negro clergyman tell a White House congregation Sunday that the nation should resolve to "share the abundance of our rich land with the deprived not only at home but abroad as well."

The Rev. Mannie L. Wilson, president of the Council of Churches of New York, was the first of his race to conduct one of the White House services since the President started them a year ago.

Parochial Hassle Stops Temporarily

LANSING (AP) — In an effort to finish action this week on a 1970-71 school aid appropriations bill of nearly $1 billion, the Michigan House will attempt to temporarily ignore one of its hottest controversies in recent years.

Both chambers meet today at 2 p.m., but House Republicans scheduled a 1:15 p.m. caucus.

A device adopted Monday night by the House would postpone further consideration of a controversial $22-million section of the school aid bill until just before the final, passage vote. Section details allocation of state funds for private and parochial schools.

Proposed by majority floor leader George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit, the plans means that more debate on parochial amendments will come at the very end of House action on the bill simply because the parochial section is written at the end of the bill.

That puts off until later this week or early next week such questions as whether the House will vote to hold up all parochial aid funds until the supreme court passes on the constitutionality of the measure, or whether certification—and thus funds—may be denied to any school requiring students to wear uniforms.

But legislators couldn't let the subject pass without some airing Monday night.

Rep. Daniel Cooper, D-Oak Park, a leader in the narrowly defeated attempt to strip parochial from the bill, charged another legislator's remarks implied he had been dishonest by trying to defeat the concept.

Eaton Rapids Republican Dale Warner was quoted in a newspaper article as saying his own vote to keep parochial in the bill—he was one of six legislators who switched their stand since the previous vote last May—did not constitute support for it.

"It was dishonest to promote an early vote on an idea—particularly when that idea had no flesh to fill out its bones," Warner wrote in a newsletter he circulated over the weekend.

Cooper, seeing implications of a challenge to his own honesty because he led the deletion move, responded by saying Warner had attempted "to cop out" on the issue.

That exchange prompted a 30-minute hassle largely over House rules of procedure.

PUNXSUTAWNEY PHIL, the weather-forecasting groundhog, could not be coaxed from his burrow Monday by members of the Punxsutawney Groundhog Club. It was the first time in 20 years Phil failed to see his shadow, thereby assuring an early spring. Club members trying to coax Phil out are President Sam Light, K. G. Lenhart, Ray Bowers and Jay Freas. (AP Wirephoto)

State Lawmakers Busy Lot During 76-Day Off Season

LANSING (AP) — During the 76-day lull between the close of the regular session last July 18 and the start of the special session Oct. 6, at least one member of the Michigan Legislature was out of the state on a trip at taxpayers' expense every day except for three days.

A survey of legislative travel vouchers and other expense records, concentrating on out-of-state trips, revealed that Michigan legislators visited such locations as Portland, Ore.; San Francisco; Los Angeles, N.H.; Boulder, Colo.; Bedford, N.H.; Madison, Wis.; Miami, New Orleans and Hawaii during their late summer break.

Double Junket
Two members of a Senate tour to British Columbia joined a House - Senate Committee study trip to Seattle, San Francisco and Los Angeles in the last half of September in an unusual double junket.

Linking those two legislative tours were State Sen. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, and Tom Woods, Senate general counsel.

The British Columbia leg of the trip sent Woods and five senators to Vancouver for the conference of the Alcoholism Foundation of British Columbia.

High Registration Fees

One voucher in the files of the pre-audit section of the Department of Administration's accounting division shows $239 in registration fees for the conference was paid on behalf of Bursley and Sens. L. Harvey Lodge, R-Waterford, Oscar E. Bouwsma, R-Muskegon, Stanley Novak, D-Detroit, and Stanley F. Rozycki, D-Detroit.

A further check of travel vouchers indicates that Bursley and Woods flew to Canada, while Lodge, Rozycki, Bouwsma and Novak traveled by train Sept. 11-14. The railroad tickets came to $540. Bursley round trip ticket was $418 and Woods' ticket to Canada came to $281.

Transportation costs came to: Bursley $292, Young $360, Woods $574, Ostensen $360, Lodge $299, Bouwsma $315, Novak $315, Rozycki $280, Bursley $418 and Gray $360.

Vouchers Missing

A partial accounting (some travel and expense vouchers were not found in a search through pre-audit section records) put the costs of the two-pronged West Coast trip at nearly $6,000. A total accounting would probably put it over the $6,000 figure.

Other trips taken by legislators during that July 18-Oct. 6 period, all of which received approval from the House or Senate, include:

Hawaii, Rep. Matthew McNeely, D-Detroit, the associate speaker pro tem, who writes on his expense account that he was "appointed by Speaker Ryan to study the Hawaii Legislature and effects of the constitutional convention." His plane fare was $384 and his bill from the Reef Hotel, Honolulu, from Sept. 23-29 was $104, which is included in his expense account total of $457. Also included in that figure is "dinner with four members of the Hawaii Legislature" on Sept. 25, which came to $82.

Senators Join Forces

The two tours apparently joined forces in Seattle Sept. 21, when the senators were about to leave for home and members of the other tour (special committee on urban mass transportation) were arriving on the West Coast.

The second tour included Sens. James D. Gray, D - Warren; Coleman A. Young, D-Detroit, and committee consultant William H. Ostensen.

Also on the second half of the double-tour were Reps. Casmer Ogonowski, D-Detroit; Martin D. Butth, R-Comstock Park; Edgar A. Geerlings, R - Muskegon; George H. Edwards, D-Detroit, and Charles Sheridan of the Legislative Service Bureau.

Bouwsma, Lodge and Rozycki flew home at a cost of $497 while Lodge flew on to Washington, D.C., at a cost of $161.

Bursley Signs Tab

Bursley stayed with the tour, which continued to San Francisco. Bursley signed the tab for a luncheon meeting with officials of the Bay Area Transit Authority Sept. 24 at the Galleon Restaurant in Alameda, across the bay from San Francisco. The meeting, involving a "party of 28" cost $185.

The tour continued to Los Angeles on the 25th and 26th where the group stayed at the Statler-Hilton.

In addition to costs already listed, the vouchers showed participants in the trips turned in expense accounts for: Geerlings $134, Butth $189, Edwards $473, Ogonowski $248, Woods $307, Ostensen, $179 and Lodge $278. The Senate total bill in Vancouver came to $686.

No Smoking Ban Being Ignored By Legislators

LANSING (AP)—A lot of legislators, many of them lawyers, could be sentenced to 90 days in prison or $50 fines if anyone wanted to crack down on them. That is the penalty under a 1967 law for smoking in an elevator.

New signs warning of the penalty recently have been posted in all state buildings with more than one elevator, including the State Capitol, headquarters for the Legislature.

Some lawmakers nervously puff on cigarettes, chew cigars and suck on pipes as they ride up and down the elevators ignoring the signs.

Scouting Values Told To Kiwanis

With Boy Scout Week approaching on Feb. 7-13, the Escanaba Kiwanis Club took the opportunity to honor the organization, and especially Troop 444 which is Kiwanis sponsored, at the Kiwanis luncheon meeting Monday.

Fred Engdahl and Steve Beltrami, Scouts from Troop 444 lead the Kiwanians in the salute to the flag. Larry Beltrami, Scout leader for Troop 444 thanked the Kiwanians for their support of the Troop, and encouraged an even greater participation by members.

Speaker for the luncheon was Dave McLeod, district Scout executive director for the Red Buck district. McLeod reminded the Kiwanians that Boy Scouting celebrates its 60th anniversary this year, and that it is now the world's largest non-governmental youth group.

The purposes of scouting are character building, citizenship training and mental and physical fitness. Scouting has three divisions: the cub scouts from 8 to 10, the boy scouts from 11-13, or on to 18 if desired, and then the explorer scouts from 14 to 20. At 21, the scout becomes either a junior leader, a leader or a scouter, he said.

In this anniversary year, the Boy Scouts of America are launching a new program entitled "Boy Power '76," which is designed to be a positive force to capture the interest of today's youth. The motto is Man Power begins with Boy Power, said McLeod, who read many excerpts from the program's agenda which is now in progress. The program is to be completed in 1976, the 200th birthday of the United States.

GI Withdrawal Program Hit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Charles E. Goodell said today he had learned the administration's withdrawal timetable envisions an American force of about 300,000 in Vietnam at the beginning of 1971, with "a very small troop reduction" under consideration for the following year.

The New York Republican, who did not disclose his source, said "The human and material costs of continuing so large a presence for so long are totally unacceptable."

Goodell's testimony, supporting his bill to force complete U.S. withdrawal over a one-year period, was prepared for the opening of Senate Foreign Relations Committee hearings on an assortment of 10 Vietnam policy resolutions.

The administration has kept secret its timetable for U.S. troop withdrawals as South Vietnamese forces are trained to take over combat duties. President Nixon has cut authorized troop strength by 115,500 since he took office, and is planning another manpower announcement in April. The currently authorized manpower level is about 434,000.

Because of the secrecy shielding future withdrawal plans, the budget Nixon sent Congress Monday did not disclose estimates of war spending for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

ICE AND SNOW CREATE more than usual problems at the Escanaba airport when DC-9 jets are in use. This North Central Airlines 100 passenger plane must have runways that are maintained to higher standards than are necessary for smaller and slower aircraft. Jet service to the people of the area is accompanied by higher operational costs at the airport. (Daily Press Photo)

Airport Costs Flying High:

City Is Wondering What Price Jet Age?

By CLINT DUNATHAN

At the Escanaba City Airport everything is looking up — and going up — including the cost of operating a modern facility to meet the needs of the jet age.

Rated one of the most modern airports in the region, the question about the Escanaba field is not whether it's worth the price. There is general agreement that the service is essential.

But the big question is one that has been kicked around for years and takes on sharper emphasis with rising costs: When is Delta County going to assume its fair share of the cost of the airport operation?

Before that question is examined, it is well to consider how it has come about that Escanaba is one of the two cities in Michigan that operate airports. All the others are county owned and operated.

City Took Lead

Escanaba has the responsibility of the airport by default of the county. Delta County once owned a tract of land near Gladstone designated as an airport, but it was never developed.

When federal funds were available for airport work in the depression period of the 1930's, Escanaba set up the necessary projects and an airport was established in the present location within the city. As state and federal money came along, Escanaba put in some of its own funds as sponsor and the airport became the modern facility it is today.

As recently as last summer a new terminal building was completed, longer runways were finished, and North Central Airlines began operating 100-passenger DC-9 jet planes. The cheers that accompanied dedication of the "new" airport last summer are turning to groans as the operating cost figures are being totaled this winter.

County Interested

It has been a difficult winter so far as weather is concerned, of course, with snow and ice and drifting that has made airport maintenance costly; the DC-9s require a higher runway maintenance standard than prop-jets; and now there are questions on the adequacy of fire protection.

The Delta County Board of Supervisors recognizes a county financial obligation in the operation of the airport. The Board will appropriate $15,000 for the year toward maintenance, however, it wants to know where the money goes, County Clerk William Butler has informed City Manager George Harvey.

"They (the supervisors) are definitely interested in the runway snowplowing, as they have been informed of a number of fly-overs during the month of December due to icy runways.

The Board feels that the airport does not only concern Escanaba alone but is a county area facility, and should be studied on that basis," County Clerk Butler advised the city.

Operations $43,653

Figures were assembled by City Controller Howard Smale for the city manager and were placed before the County Board showing that:

Projected operational expenses at the airport for 1970 are $43,653. This is "on the conservative side," said Smale.

Major items of expense are manager at $12,000, runway maintenance $7,400, plowing $8,000, utilities $4,753, general field maintenance $2,000, grounds maintenance $2,250 and insurance $2,250.

These are projected estimates based on five months operation at the airport. They are "somewhat on the conservative side," said Smale. Insurance coverage should be twice the figure but insurance companies "are reluctant to write airport insurance."

Income from the airport operation includes $10,800 landing fees from North Central; $2,400 from rent-a-car space; $1,200 from Trans Michigan Airlines; $3,500 from fuel sold to transients.

Under Study

City Manager Harvey speaks of "grateful appreciation" for the receipt of $15,000 from the Delta County Board of Supervisors toward airport operations.

Escanaba citizens, however, recognize that of a $15,000

'Diary Of Anne Frank' Opens This Weekend

The play that Life Magazine called "the most moving to emerge from World War II," "The Diary of Anne Frank," will be presented by the Escanaba Area High School drama department at the Escanaba Area High School Auditorium Friday and Saturday night, Feb. 6 and 7.

Never Grim

Though the play is a compassionate chapter on the horrors of harmless, innocent people forced to hide for their lives during World War II, it is never grim. Dramatic critics everywhere have commented particularly on the fact that this dramatization of a teenager's diary during two years of secret confinement with her family is an endearing and often even gaily comic portrait of the day-to-day activities of a group of people living under strained circumstances.

Family Play

Walter Kerr, of the New York Herald Tribune, in his review, stated, "It is something more than an 'impressive' play. It leaves a shimmering image behind it because, in a way, it gives no thought at all to tomorrow, cares not a whit for the obvious tears to be wrung from the plight of its characters. It only wants to tell you what Anne's todays are like—and as it happened, they were wonderful."

Lead Roles

Dennis Combs will have the leading role of Otto Frank, the wise, strong head of the family, who organizes and sustains the refugee colony in the hide-out, and Diane Coplan will be seen as his daughter, Anne.

Debbie Olsen will have the role of Anne's mother; Kathy Cavill will portray Anne's older sister, Denise Chenier will be seen as the mother of the other family sharing the refuge, Bob Ham as her husband, John Nyquist as their son with whom Anne falls in love, Steve Rolig will enact the eighth member of the hide-out colony, Susan Nicholson and Rod Johnson will be seen as two sympathetic Gentiles who help the Jewish refugees with food and other necessities. The play is under the direction of Peter Adamini.

LaBranche 4-Her's Elect New Officers

The LaBranche B.O.E.'s 4-H Club held their winter organizational meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Robert Bellefeuil. The group decided to join Delta County so they could participate in county events.

The traveling distance to Stephenson, site of most Menominee County events is 104 miles round trip, and made participation in leader and teen organizations impossible. Teen leaders attended the Delta County Teen Leader meeting in Escanaba Monday.

A new slate of officers was elected as follows: President Kim Stebbins; Vice-President, Tracy Bellefeuil; Secretary David Piriol; Treasurer, Barbara Welch. New officers will be installed Sunday, Feb. 15 at a dinner for the parents to be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Bellefeuil. The entire meal will be prepared and served by the members.

A program, "4-H Is . . ." will be presented by the B.O.E.'s at the Perronville 4-H Community Club meeting to be held Thursday, Feb. 4, at St. Michael's Parish Hall.

The B.O.E.'s are carrying three projects. Enrolled in sewing is Colette Stebbins, Kim Mileski, Janet Kasbahr, and Tracy Bellefeuil. Sewing leaders are Mrs. Robert Stebbins, Mrs. Caroline Mileski, and Mrs. Robert Bellefeuil. Enrolled in "The Young Chef," project of camp style cooking for boys, are Paul Mileski, David Piriol, and Jim Bellefeuil.

Most of the members will be participating in a talent number for Achievement Day as part of a recreation project. Credits for recreation have already been completed by Kim Mileski, Janet and Keith Kasbahr, Tracy and Jim Bellefeuil, Colette Stebbins, and Barbara Welch due to their participation in the Christmas Pageant held at St. Michael's in December.

Blood Donors Ages 18 To 21 Need Parents' Consent

Young people ages 18 to 21 must have parental permission to become blood donors in Michigan, the Red Cross noted today in connection with the Red Cross Badger Bloodmobile visit to Delta County this week.

An increasing number of states (but not yet Michigan) have waived the parental permission requirement for blood donors.

Top age limit for donors is 65 years.

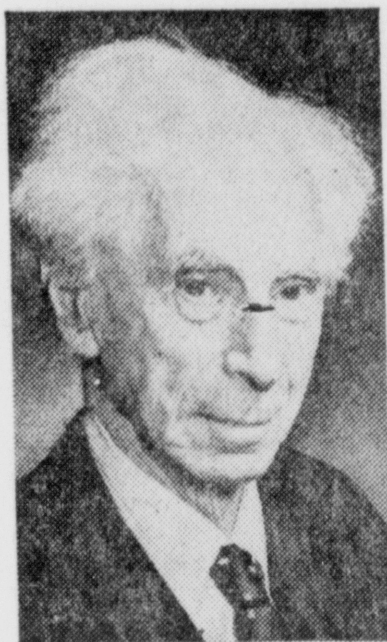

The Red Cross, sponsors of the bloodmobile, reports that 65 appointments have been made so far. The quota for the three days is 280 units.

The bloodmobile will be at the James T. Jones School in Gladstone on Wednesday and at the Teamster building in Escanaba on Thursday and Friday. Reservations may be made by calling the Red Cross mornings 786-3214 or 786-5371.

The bloodmobile was last in Delta County on Dec. 9, 10 and 11 so that more than the required time has elapsed for donors to contribute again.

Bertrand Russell

British Mourn Russell's Death

PENRHUDEUDRAETH, Wales (AP) — Britain today mourned philosopher Bertrand Russell, one of the great minds of the 20th century and one of its most controversial figures.

Lord Russell died Monday night at his home in North Wales. He was 97.

A spokesman said Russell's fourth wife, Edith, was with him when he collapsed. He reportedly had been suffering from influenza.

The Times of London said "Bertrand Russell's claim to be remembered by history rests securely on his work in mathematical and symbolic logic and in philosophy on which his influence was pervasive and profound."

In recent years Russell, a lean man with sharp bird-like features and a shock of white hair, was in the vanguard of the militant opposition to nuclear armament and U.S. involvement in the Vietnam war.

Briefly Told

Escanaba police request residents to cooperate in finding a white poodle which is sought in connection with an incident Monday evening, when the dog bit the hands of its owner, Joseph Abb, 1009 3rd Ave. N. The dog then ran away. A period of observation for 10 days is necessary to determine if the dog is rabid.

Another Night Of Below Zero Cold Indicated

The Escanaba area can look forward to at least one more night of sub-zero cold, the U.S. Weather Bureau reported today.

Temperatures are expected to dip to about 10 below zero tonight after an official low of 12 below was registered last night. The high today wasn't expected to climb much above the zero mark.

Weathermen said, however, that temperatures will climb to about 15 degrees Wednesday with indications of a further warming trend Thursday. With the rise in temperature, there is a chance of snow.

Winds of 20 miles per hour early this morning out of the northwest were diminishing to between 10 and 18 miles per hour today with a further calm indicated tonight.

Some schools in the rural areas remained closed today, but elsewhere no major difficulties — outside of some stubborn automobiles — were reported.

Market Reverts To Losing Ways

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks reverted to their losing ways in moderately active trading early today, as declining issues pushed ahead of advances.

The Dow Jones industrial average at 10:30 a.m. dipped 0.53 to 745.91.

Analysts attributed the surge to President Nixon's remarks last Friday that he hoped the Federal Reserve Board could ease monetary restrictions. Tight credit, reflected in such restraints, has dampened the market significantly for the last year.

The market, oversold after six previous losing sessions, also contained bargains and was ready for a technical bounce, brokers added.

The gloomy economic picture, however, as seen in the steady flow of disappointing corporate earnings reports, probably will retard any sort of sustained rally, analysts predicted.

Ruling Needed

Frank Stupak, supervisor, and Frank Stupak, superintendent are incompatible, according to Frank Kelley, attorney general of the State of Michigan. Frank Stupak, superintendent, and Frank Stupak, supervisor, are not incompatible, according to Nicholas P. Chapekis attorney of Escanaba.

That is where the situation stood more than a month ago and that, apparently, is where it stands today.

It's about time, however, that something be done to resolve the problem.

Stupak, who is superintendent of the Big Bay de Noc public schools, was one of five supervisors elected to the Delta County Board of Supervisors in November, 1968, by voters of District 2 of the county (City of Gladstone and Escanaba Township). It was a position he had held before by virtue of his election as a City Commissioner of Gladstone, but with the reorganization of the county board on a "one man, one vote" basis the procedure changed to require election from a specific district. Stupak won in his district and subsequently resigned from his position as a City Commissioner of Gladstone to take the county supervisor's office Jan. 1, 1969.

It is now Feb. 3, 1970, more than a year later, and nothing has been done to determine whether or not he is legally seated.

Notwithstanding the curious and protracted timing of the whole episode (Stupak was elected in Nov. 1968; seated Jan. 1, 1969; the opinion of the attorney general was issued Aug. 22, 1969; it was conveyed to Stupak Dec. 5, 1969, and nothing has been resolved as yet), the whole situation rests on what Kelley regards as an incompatibility of office between school superintendent and county supervisor.

The attorney general, in his opinion, made reference to tax allocation procedures and this, apparently, is the nubbin of the problem. As a member of the Board of Supervisors, Stupak could be required to sit as a member of the County Tax Allocation Board. Should that happen, he also would be sitting on the board as superintendent of the Big Bay de Noc school district.

And that would be incompatible.

The tax allocation board, it should be pointed out, is the six-member panel which sits in the spring of the year to parcel out the 15 allowable mills the county can collect in ad valorem taxes. Its composition, by law, includes the county treasurer, chairman of the county board's ways and means or finance committee, one representative from the largest school district in the county, one representative from the largest municipality in the county, the superintendent of the intermediate school district and an at large delegate appointed by the Probate Judge.

The legal apportionment provides some sort of balance — two school people, two county people and two more or less neutrals. If one of the county people was strongly school oriented, or vice versa, the balance could be lost.

Chapekis, replying to the question of incompatibility for Stupak, points out that Stupak is an employee of the Board of Education and that "nowhere in the enumeration of the duties of a superintendent of schools is there a duty to represent the school before the Tax Allocation Board..."

He disagrees with the opinion of the attorney general and advises Stupak to ignore the request made of him by H. H. Dubblede, chairman of the Delta County Republican committee, that he resign from the county board.

It is not the point, here, to express an opinion whether or not the offices of supervisor and superintendent are incompatible.

The point is that the situation should be resolved, one way or the other.

Delta County has had a chairman of its Board of Supervisors for more than a year who, according to the state's attorney general, is in private life employed in a position which is incompatible with his public office. And if the attorney general will not move to obtain a court ruling on his opinion, then it's up to the people and officers of Delta County to do the job.

A training program in snowmobile operations and safe handling of vehicles, aimed specifically at the younger age group but possibly for adults as well, will be among the recommendations which a major's special study group will make to the Sault Ste. Marie City Commission. One suggestion given members of the group was that a club might be formed to conduct a program, giant stickers or cards to graduates to show they had completed the course, and thus provide some of the public pressure needed to regulate use of the machines.

Iron Mounty Clerk T. F. Hendrickson has received notice that the defendants in the county's millage case have filed an appeal for a new trial with the State Court of Appeals in Lansing. Circuit Judge William Hood, who presided, issued a ruling last week in favor of the assessment of 2.03 mills for Iron County hospital bond retirement. The six units of government — City of Crystal Falls and five townships — protested the levy of the millage on the basis that the bonds had not yet been sold.

Preliminary planning studies are under way for a new Dickinson County court house and jail in Iron Mountain. The county board was told that the next steps in planning the new facility will be the hiring of an architect and financial studies relative to its construction.

Consolidated sales have increased from seven million dollars five years ago to more than 18 million dollars in 1969.

How Mixed Up Are Labor's Policies?

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Poor George Meany. This stubborn, honorable head of the AFL-CIO gets it in the neck from self-styled liberals who think it "reactionary" of him to support an anti-Communist foreign policy.

An implacable author, Ronald Radosh, writes a book, "American Labor and United States Foreign Policy," to prove that Meany and his international advisers, Jay Lovestone and Irving Brown, have been dupes of the CIA. Think of it—the AFL-CIO helped put the kibosh on the pompous and incompetent Juan Bosch in the Dominican Republic, on Marxist Cheddi Jagan in what used to be British Guiana, and on Communist manipulators in the Fifties in Guatemala. Terrible, terrible. But when one considers what the alternative might have been, one is inclined to bless Mr. Meany for doing more than the Marshall Plan to keep the Communists from overrunning the world.

On the other hand, the liberals like what Mr. Meany has been doing domestically to help Cesar Chavez in his attempt to impose compulsory unionism on the nation's four million farm workers. And they approve of any and all of Mr. Meany's efforts to put the power of the State behind strikers. A libertarian when it comes to opposing State domination of labor movements abroad, Mr. Meany deserts the old Samuel Gompers theory that the labor movement at home should be an independent "business organization" for wage-earners who are willing to depend on voluntary persuasion to get their way.

By enlisting the State to favor the unions in strikes, Mr. Meany undoubtedly gets some immediate benefits. The New York State law that grants unemployment compensation to workers on the picket line has helped the striking General Electric employees in Schenectady to endure a hard winter. It can be argued that any law that enables unemployed people to keep up with their mortgage payments and support the local butcher must be good for the community as well as for striking workers.

But the justice of forcing the community as a whole to finance strikers is not immediately apparent. It might even be construed as an infringement of the First Amendment, for it amounts to using the people's money to support issues that they might very well oppose if they had any say-so in the money's distribution.

Leaving Constitutional issues to one side, isn't it a bit shortsighted of Mr. Meany to depend on the State to help finance his strikes? Only two states, New York and Rhode Island, now supply unemployment compensation to striking workers. There is a movement in Massachusetts, however, to pass a strike-benefit bill. News that the Massachusetts legislature was considering such a measure drew instant fire from a General Electric vice president, Clement E. Sutton Jr., the general manager of the industrial and marine division. GE has plants at both ends of the state in Massachusetts; it is a big employer in Pittsfield in the Berkshires, and it has another operation in Lynn, north of Boston.

Mr. Sutton said that GE would have to reduce its total employment in Massachusetts if a strike benefit bill became law. "Our competitive disadvantage," said Mr. Sutton, is becoming "so bad" in Massachusetts "that if the . . . bill passes, we'd have no alternative but to set in motion programs for a more serious scaling down of our operations

DNR POLICIES

Within the past few weeks, Rep. Charles Varnum (R-Manistiquet) and Rep. Dominic Jacobetti (D-Negaunee) have been sharply criticized in their endeavor to halt antlerless deer seasons and the U. P. Game Protection Association also has been under fire.

It seems like the same old story: If you're not a biologist, your opinion isn't worth the paper it is written on.

It is the association's sincere hope not to be dragged down to a name-calling level, but we would like to clear up some points for the benefit of Art Shafer and all our critics.

We fully realize that we need a sound conservation program and we will back them up tooth and nail to that end, but the credibility gap that exists within the department in regard to antlerless deer seasons and the zone management plan to control commercial fishing should be brought to the attention of all the citizens of Michigan to help them decide if we should have had a doe season and if we should be denied the right to be able to buy fresh fish here in this area of Big and Little Bays de Noc.

In a recent meeting with the Michigan Deer Hunters Association, Dave Arnold, the gentleman who presents the doe shooting quota to the DNR Commission, stated that "there are only two or three biologists to every eight counties and it is impossible for them to know the woods as well as some hunters do" so it's quite possible that their antlerless deer season is in gross error as they are only human.

John Bylich, the specialist in deer habitat for the DNR, stated that we should shoot fewer does, but only if they get more money ($5 more for license) to improve habitat. Now, if this is valid reasoning, why did Dave Arnold get so upset over the spending of our deer license money to plant salmon instead of using it for deer habitat?

Another question also comes up when E. M. (Matt) Laitala, chairman of the DNR Commission, sharply criticized the fish division with a credibility gap in their presentation of the zone management plan to control commercial fishing and said they will be asked by the commission to give a full account, as he learned the situation is not exactly the same as it was described to him by the fish division.

Let's all hope that the antlerless deer season and the zone management plan will be resolved for the benefit of everyone in the very near future.

U. P. Game Protection Assn. Dan Wellman, president Harvey Potvin, vice president Harold Nelson, recording sec. John Broders, financial sec. Box 108, Gladstone here and a further expansion in other states."

The "anti-management legislative tone" in Massachusetts, Mr. Sutton continued, has already had its effect on GE decisions affecting the location of new plants.

"To remain competitive," said Mr. Sutton, GE has already transferred businesses that started out in Pittsfield to places as remote as Rome, Ga., Hickory, N. Car., Shreveport, La., and Merced, Calif. Operations that originated in Lynn have been removed to Maine, New Hampshire, and Vermont.

No doubt Mr. Meany would condemn GE for encouraging "runaway" plants if it went through with threats to move out of states such as New York and Massachusetts because they are "anti-management." But why should a company put up with conditions that favor one side against the other when it comes to bargaining? As GE's Mr. Sutton says, "paying strikers' benefits is as absurd as the state reimbursing employers for business lost due to a strike."

What this country needs is a more even-handed State attitude toward both management and labor, lest the unions' power to force inflation should kill every last one of our entrepreneurial golden geese.

Good, Bad Side

Life Compared To Christmas Tree

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Every period of human life is like a Christmas tree—it has its good side and its bad side.

This month, while the rest of America will be celebrating the birthdays of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington, I'll be figuratively lighting a birthday cake of my own, one lit by a bonfire of 59 candles.

"How many did you say, Harold—59? Why, you don't look a year over 58. And if you took off 30 or 35 pounds, you probably wouldn't look over 57."

Well, thanks everybody, thanks. There's nothing like a kind word to lift the human spirit.

Naturally, I suppose you all want to know how I feel about being 59. Well, I feel pretty much like the fellow in a story Abraham Lincoln used to like to tell.

This man had been tarred and feathered and ridden out of town by a group of citizens he had unintentionally offended. As he was plucking the tar and feathers off himself, one lone sympathizer asked him how he felt.

"Well," said the victim ruefully, "if it weren't for the prestige, I'd just as soon have skipped the whole experience."

Becoming 59 isn't so bad in itself. What makes it memorable is that it means you are entering your 60th year of life, and that does kind of pull a fellow up short.

There are certain birthdays that make a person want to lie down and cry. With a maiden lady it is her 30th; with a man it's his 40th. With a married woman it's the year in which her last child leaves home.

The beginning of one's 60th year is also a kind of personal

Opening lead—ten of clubs.

When you are a defender and see that declarer is pursuing a method of play that will lead him to defeat, you must do everything possible to keep him on that course.

Here is a hand where West made an exceptionally fine play that contributed to declarer's downfall. He led the ten of clubs, won in dummy by the queen. East showing interest in the suit by playing the six.

West noted that South had dropped the jack on the queen and he concluded that declarer had started with the K-J alone.

At the same time, West also noted that South could bring home five spade tricks by taking the double finesse in that suit.

So when declarer led the jack of diamonds from dummy at trick two and let it ride, West won the trick with the ace! (He was trying hard to persuade South that East had the queen of diamonds.)

West led another club, the A-K falling together on the trick. Declarer played the ten of diamonds from dummy. When East followed low, South quite naturally finessed against East's (presumed) queen. It was hard for him to imagine West winning the first diamond lead with the ace if he had the queen.

So West cashed his queen of diamonds and three club tricks, and South went down one.

But let's suppose that West had won the first diamond with the queen and returned a club. South would surely have recognized the futility of continuing with diamonds, and he would have shifted his attention to spades — where he would have reaped a rich harvest by taking a double finesse.

West realized very early that South was barking up the wrong tree in attacking diamonds, and he successfully maintained the diversion by means of a clever falsecard.

Ann Landers

Scribe Blows 'Horn' On Michigan Writer

Dear Ann Landers: Everyone in this office was interested in the letter from the man who returned from Vietnam with an ancient aphrodisiac—powdered reindeer horns. We are well aware that phony sex potions have been around for centuries, but somehow this stuff, as described by the soldier, sounds like the real McCoy.

We live in Michigan. There are no reindeer up here. Would just plain deer horns be O.K.? Please advise. — F. L. and J.

Dear F. L. and J.: I am certain that plain deer horns would be just as effective as reindeer horns. If you can't locate deer horns, you might try goat horns, or fog horns, French horns or shoe horns. The results, I assure you, will be the same. Zero.

Dear Ann Landers: I couldn't believe my eyes when I read your advice to "Pestered Louise." You said it is bad manners to drop in on people unexpectedly and that no one should be a sitting duck for anybody who knows how to ring the doorbell.

What is wrong with you that you don't like company? From your column one gets the impression you love people, but such statements as this make me wonder.

I'm tickled pink when someone drops in. I can think of no greater compliment. I'm not a fussbudget about my house. If it isn't neat as a pin, I don't care. I serve whatever is on hand and if I don't have anything to serve I say so.

Please change your advice. It doesn't sound like you. But then you hear from so many nutty people, maybe you are getting a little nutty yourself.

—Kentucky Ella

Dear Ella: Yes, I do hear from some nutty people, but every now and then I get a lovely letter from a charming person like you so it evens out. I did say it is inconsiderate to drop in unexpectedly and I meant it. People who are uninvited and unexpected are usually unwelcome. At least, that's the way I see it.

Dear Ann Landers: What can be done about a 45-year-old mother who thinks she is a teen-ager? Our 16-year-old daughter is getting more uncommunicative and angry by the day. I am sure her mother's behavior is at the bottom of it.

Our daughter Lottie has many friends, both boys and girls, and they congregate at our place. The kids play table tennis, sing, turn on the hi-fi and dance by the hour. "Mom" loves to dance with the boys and they tell her she's out of sight. She is a great dancer and I think she is giving the girls more competition than she realizes.

I don't believe a woman in her 40's should be wearing mini skirts and kicking up her heels with her daughter's boyfriend. Mom insists she is only chaperoning. I don't think the teen-agers need that much chaperoning. Do you?—Scarsdale

Dear Scars: Parents should be under the roof when their teen-agers entertain, but they should not plant themselves in the middle of the action and act like part of the crowd.

A mother who is attractive and a good hooper should turn down the voltage around her daughter's friends. Without realizing it, she is competing with her daughter and creating trouble.

Too many couples go from matrimony to acrimony. Don't let your marriage flop before it gets started. Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Marriage—What To Expect." Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50c in coin and a long, stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed and stamped envelope.

A meeting of the Escanaba board of public works was held last night, when the regular bills were presented and acted upon and representatives of an adding machine gave a demonstration to show the value of the machines in the offices of the public utilities. The matter probably will be referred to a committee of council for consideration.

One of the most largely attended and successful parties staged during the present season, was that given by the Escanaba Lodge of Elks in their hall when dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

Band Students To Join Soloist

"Bugler's Holiday" won't be quite that Thursday night at the William W. Oliver auditorium in the Junior High School.

Instead of "buglers", three cornetists—John Nyquist and Pat Ness joining the nationally-known James Burke—will play the famous selection in public concert. The program will begin at 7:30 p. m. and all seats are $1. Tickets are available at the door.

Burke, who is well known as a cornet soloist and instructor, will arrive in Escanaba later today and is scheduled to rehearse with the Escanaba Junior High School Concert Band Wednesday afternoon.

The concert will feature the Junior High Concert band directed by David Laakso and the High School Concert Wind Ensemble directed by John Chown.

In addition to "Bugler's Holiday," Burke will play sev-

Marriage Facts, Not Fancies, In Course Offering

"Thinking About Marriage?" a pre-marriage course offered through the Community School Program of the Escanaba Area Public Schools, begins at 7:30 p.m., Monday, Feb. 16, and will run for 8 weeks.

Directed by Charles L. Tooman, associate director of the Family Enrichment Bureau, and endorsed by several members of the Delta County Clergy Association, "Thinking About Marriage?" will seek to offer students of senior high and junior college age many of the things they need to know before going into marriage.

"It is a course," says Tooman, "designed to help them make the transition from the period of 'moonlight and roses' to that of 'diapers and runny noses.' In other words, the course will deal with feelings and emotions rather than family budgets, bridal gowns, and table settings. We are going to get into the really nitty-gritty of marriage."

One of the more interesting aspects of the course is that each student will be urged to keep a notebook of his observations of three marriages. The student observations will then form much of the basis for class discussion.

The course is designed with the belief that marriage is an adult business — therefore the people going into marriage should have adult information. "Every day we see people who play at being a husband, wife, father or mother. And as a result we have 1 in 4 ending in divorce, 2 of 4 ending in apathy. Here in the U.P. 50 per cent of the high school senior girls are married within one year of graduation," Tooman said.

"Put all that together and you get the fact that something realistic needs to be done about pre-marriage instruction," he added. For further information, students can contact the Community School Office, Room 251 at the Junior High or phone 786-4659.

Passenger Group Will Fight C&NW

WASHINGTON—The National Association of Railroad Passengers announced today that it will oppose the Chicago and North Western's petition to discontinue its last daily passenger train service between Chicago and Green Bay, Wis., via Sheboygan and Manitowoc.

In a letter to the Interstate Commerce Commission, Anthony Haswell, chairman of the non-profit citizens' organization, asserted that "more and better service, not less, is urgently needed" on this corridor. He contended that air and highway congestion in the area "is reaching intolerable levels."

NARP, with headquarters at 41 Ivy St., S. E., Washington, has members in every state and abroad.

"We believe the decline in patronage on these trains (Numbers 121, 125 and 214) alleged by the carrier is not a true reflection of the public need for the service.

"The scheduled running times have been lengthened over a period of years and on-time performance has not been reliable," Haswell declared.

He said that between 1956 and 1965, regulatory agencies have permitted the dismantling of over 75 per cent of C&NW's intercity passenger service.

The carrier's response has been to allow the remaining service to deteriorate and to divert millions of dollars of its assets to investments outside the transportation field. Some of this money could have been used to upgrade these trains," NARP stated.

NARP contends that the discontinuance of the "Afternoon Hiawatha" makes it "even more imperative that no further discontinuance in this territory be permitted."

Tax Assistance On State Forms Available Here

Assistance in preparation of Michigan income and intangible tax returns will be available in Escanaba every Monday through April 13 and also on Wednesday, April 15.

Treasury officials said most persons who are required to file a federal income tax return will be required to file a Michigan income tax return. "If a married couple files a joint return for federal income tax, a joint return must be filed for Michigan income tax purposes," they added.

Scouts Seek Activity Area

The City Council will consider an agreement with the Delta County Boy Scout Council regarding a city-owned tract for use by the Scouts when the Council meets at 8 p. m. Thursday in the Civic Center.

The area in which the Scouts are interested is northwest of the city beyond the ski hill, which was utilized for a time by the 4-H and has been released by them, said City Manager George Harvey. The proposed agreement with the Scouts would be on an annual basis. The Scouts are looking forward to a winter camporee this month and they also expect to use the area on a year-round basis for outdoor activities. Other business to come before the Council includes: Consideration of an agreement with the Escanaba Area School Board on financing crossing guards; appointment of an individual to the General Appeals Board; and consideration of an application of the C&NW Railway for submerged lands at the eastern end of the city. Bid opening on public lands at the west end of Ludington St.; appointment of an individual to the Board of Equalization and Review; and adoption of a memorial resolution to the late City Attorney John G. Erickson are scheduled.

Presentation of a certificate to Martin Rose, city waste water plant superintendent, from the Michigan Department of Health; and a proclamation recognizing Boy Scout Week are on the agenda also.

Insurance Increase Due For Faster Cars

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan motorists will pay more to insure the hot "muscle cars" as of March 1.

Comprehensive and collision coverages will go up 20 percent, the Automobile Club of Michigan announced today.

In an article in the February Motor News, the association defines the "muscle" or "performance" car as any 1970 vehicle with an engine of 350 horsepower or more with a manual transmission or any 1970 private car with a ratio of vehicle weight to horsepower of less than 10.5 to one.

"The only alternative to penalizing performance cars is for the 90 per cent of insured club members who don't buy these cars to subsidize insurance costs for the hot car buyer, and we don't think that is fair," wrote Ed Daniels, Insurance Exchange general manager.

About 770,000 Michigan drivers are insured with the exchange at ACM.

Criticizing what have been described as "motorized missiles," Daniels said:

"These cars are powered far too strongly for the needs of any motorist in any foreseeable circumstance, and far above the capacity of present streets and roads."

"When a car has an engine which can attain speeds of 120 or more miles an hour on the road and can accelerate from a standing start to 60 miles per hour in less than eight seconds, it contains elements of danger not possessed by ordinary cars."

He noted that 70 per cent of fatal accidents in Michigan in the past three years have occurred on two-lane country roads at speeds too fast for conditions.

Mrs. Lucy Anderson has returned to her home in Green Bay, Wis. after visiting for a week at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Cayemberg.

The Bethany Ladies are meeting once a week to sew articles for the Bay Cliff Health Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Legault are vacationing in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gauthier were dinner guests Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bergstrom at Bark River, the occasion being their grandson Kent Bergstrom's sixth birthday.

Bruins Receive Unanimous Vote

By The Associated Press
Mighty UCLA, which ran its perfect record through 16 games last week while upset tremors rocked half a dozen other top teams, was the unanimous No. 1 choice today in The Associated Press' major college basketball poll.

UCLA, the nation's only unbeaten major power following the initial falls of Kentucky, St. Bonaventure and Jacksonville, received all 31 first place votes in the weekly ballot of sports writers and sportscasters across the country.

The Bruins remained firmly entrenched at the pack with a total of 620 points after whipping California 87-72 Friday night and thrashing Stanford 102-84 Saturday night. Once-beaten South Carolina won three games during the week and climbed from fourth place to the No. 2 spot, replacing Kentucky, with 534 points.

Kentucky, ambushed by Vanderbilt 89-81 Saturday, slipped to third position and St. Bonaventure, upended by Villanova 64-62 earlier in the week, dipped from No. 3 to No. 4. Jacksonville, sixth a week ago, fell to eighth following an 89-83 loss to Florida State.

New Mexico State, Marquette and Illinois also stumbled—and lost ground in the rankings. The Aggies, downed by Creighton 72-68, dropped from fifth to sixth; the Warriors, knocked off by Chicago Loyola 76-72, from seventh to ninth and the Illini, stunned by Notre Dame 86-83, from No. 10 to No. 14.

North Carolina State, which won twice, moved from eighth to fifth; North Carolina jumped from ninth to seventh after winning its only regular start and Penn., a two-time winner, switched positions with Illinois.

Davidson, Houston and Ohio University, which headed the Second Ten in last week's balloting, took unexpected spins as well, the Wildcats bowing to Wake Forest 74-73, the Cougars to Utah State 91-84 and the Bobcats to Wisconsin 72-69.

The resulting realignment sent Southern California from 15th to the No. 11 spot, Florida State from 18th to 12th and Drake from 16th to 13th. Davidson dropped to No. 15, behind Illinois, followed by Houston, Columbia, Kansas State, Villanova, and Iowa.

Ohio U. lost its spot in the Top Twenty, with Villanova moving in from the unranked list.

Maravich Becomes First To Record 3,000 Points

By The Associated Press

The M Boys combined for 68 points Monday night. Louisiana State's Pete Maravich had 49 of them and became the first major college basketball player to score 3,000 in a career, but Penn. was happy to have Bob Morse's 15 and Kentucky was just wild about Terry Mills' four.

Maravich, who shattered Oscar Robertson's major college career mark Saturday night, 376, boosted his total to 3,036 as LSU whipped Mississippi State 109-91. En route, he also passed one of the six small college players ahead of him—Bennie Swain of Texas Southern, who had 3,008. Before he's through, Maravich, who has 12 regular season games left, should eclipse everyone but Grambling's Bob Hopkins, who amassed 3,759 in a four-year career.

Mills popped in a 25-foot shot with 11 seconds left to give Kentucky an 84-83 victory over Auburn and move the Wildcats in a tie with Georgia for first place in the Southeastern Conference. The third-ranked Wildcats suffered their first defeat of the season Saturday against Vanderbilt.

Penn. which jumped from 14th to 10th in this week's Associated Press poll, had just blown a 12-point lead in the closing minutes and trailed 17th-ranked Columbia by a point when Morse sank two free throws and added a corner jump shot a minute later to help the Quakers to a 57-52 triumph. They also broke a tie with Columbia for the Ivy League lead. The only other ranking teams in action were No. 8 Jacksonville, which walloped Iona 110-

75, and Kansas State, No. 18, which remained in the Big Eight driver's seat with a 82-64 bouncing of Iowa State.

Louisiana State, bidding for a post-season tournament, pulled away from Mississippi State midway through the first half. Maravich made 21 of 40 shots and passed off for nine assists. Mills, who missed two important free throws in the final minute, had put Kentucky ahead 82-80 with 1:50 left. But Al Leapheart's free throw and Henry Harris' jumper put Auburn in front with 28 seconds left and set up Mills' winning basket.

Dan Issel, despite an injured heel, paced the winners with 28 points and Mike Pratt had 20. Auburn's John Mengelt led all scorers with 41.

Penn's Morse made his crucial points after the Quakers had seen a 51-39 bulge wiped out in less than four minutes. Steve Bilecky scored 14 of his 18 points in the second half to help build the lead and the winners finally overcame Columbia's 1-2 punch of Jim McMillian and Heyward Dotson, who combined for 40.

Artis Gilmore's 29 points and 26 rebounds fired Jacksonville past the century mark for the 12th time in 16 stunts and Kansas State took advantage of two six-minute cold spells by Iowa State to down the Cyclones, who missed their first 11 shots of the second half.

In other SEC play, Tennessee outlasted Vanderbilt 77-72 in double overtime and Alabama bumped Mississippi 95-87. In the Big Eight, Kansas thumped Oklahoma 71-48, Missouri whipped Colorado 90-73 and Oklahoma State crushed Nebraska 81-58.

Atlanta Whips Piston Cagers

By The Associated Press

Atlanta whipped Detroit 125-121 last night without the services of former Piston Walt Bellamy.

Bellamy, the 6-11 center who the Pistons traded to the Hawks Sunday, decided he needed an extra day to adjust to the southern style and never got on the court.

Atlanta said in the trade they wanted Bellamy partly to help with their title push.

But even without him, the win over Detroit moved them into a virtual tie with Los Angeles in the Western Division.

Richie Guerin, player-coach of the Hawks, scored his first points of the season in last night's game.

The game, the only one scheduled in the NBA, was played in Greenville, S. C. Guerin said, "Being away from Atlanta didn't hurt us any because the crowd here was for us and it was a fine floor to play on."

The game in Greenville's Memorial Auditorium attracted a crowd of 4,500. The contest, originally scheduled for Atlanta, was rescheduled for Greenville last month.

Guerin, who has been busy with coaching duties and has played only a few times this season, scored a basket which put Atlanta ahead 86-84 in the third quarter. Those two were his only points. He played about six minutes.

Los Angeles has a record of 30 victories and 24 losses for a .556 percentage. Atlanta is 32 and 26, .552 per cent.

Los Angeles and Atlanta have a six-game edge on third-place Chicago in the Western Division, 6½ on San Francisco and 7 on Phoenix.

Lou Hudson, leading scorer for the Hawks this season, scored 42 points, while for Detroit Dave Bing had 25 and McCoy Lemore had 24. Walt Bellamy, traded from Detroit to Atlanta over the weekend, did not break into the Hawk lineup. The game was tied 100-100 with 10 minutes to play. Then Hudson, Dave Newmark and Gary Gregor led a rally that gave Atlanta a 10-point lead with four minutes remaining.

There were two games scheduled in the American Basketball Association Monday night. Denver edged Los Angeles 115-113 and continued 1½ games back of leading New Orleans in the Western Division. New Orleans defeated Washington 111-108.

Local Schools Face League Title Fights

By JIM TRETHERWEY

It'll be Great Northern versus Great Lakes in next month's Class A and B tournaments, but right now each conference is more concerned in picking its own basketball champion.

And this week's games will have a decided effect on the eventual title winner in each league.

Menominee, seeking its third straight Great Northern crown, will play at Escanaba Holy Name. The Crusaders, sporting the same 8-2 record carried by the Maroons, are half a game back of Menominee and definitely need a victory to stay in the race.

As Upper Peninsula high school quintets begin the final month of the 1969-70 campaign, the GNC shapes up this way: Menominee 5-1, Escanaba Holy Name 4-1, Escanaba 4-1.

Menominee and Holy Name also look like the Great Northern's top hopes in Class B tournament competition, where they'll probably face chief opposition from Negaunee, Ishpeming and Gladstone of the Great Lakes and Gwinn, a Land O' Lakes Conference leader.

Menominee has won three straight Upper Peninsula Class B titles, and with Jack Jackl back in the lineup after sitting out the first semester, is considered a top contender for that laurel again.

In the Great Lakes Conference, meanwhile, Marquette—which later will oppose Escanaba for U. P. Class A honors—gets what may be its last chance to stay in the race when it hosts Gladstone.

The Redmen, faltering after 10 straight triumphs, must win this one or just about forget the GLC trophy. They've lost two in a row to Ishpeming and Negaunee, two teams which also are challenging for the league championship.

Negaunee, whose title hopes were dealt a severe blow when it bowed to Munising on its home court after its well-earned overtime victory over Marquette, will host Ishpeming this week.

Just how important the two Great Lakes games are can be realized from a glance at the first division standings: Gladstone 5-1, Marquette 6-2, Ishpeming 5-3, Negaunee 6-3.

Because it plays more conference contests, Marquette's chances appear brighter. But Coach Fred Taccolini's team must stop Gladstone or sit back and watch the Braves, under first-year coach Jack Ingalls, very likely go on to take the title.

Three teams are still unbeaten in U. P. prep circles: Houghton (11-0), St. Ignace (11-0) and Big Bay de Noc (10-0).

Both Houghton and St. Ignace, probably heading for another showdown in Peninsula Class C post-season play, appear determined to keep their records clean, but Big Bay de Noc has just barely got by its last two opponents. It beat Trenary by two points, then had to go into overtime to stop Eben.

The Black Bears of the Central U. P. League, however, have senior Bill Hartman back in the lineup and may regain their former prowess against Bark River and Eben this week.

The week's schedule of Upper Peninsula games:

Tonight—Holy Name at Manistique, Munising at Gwinn, Ontonagon at Bessemer, Norway at Powers, Stephenson at Coleman, Wis., Ewen-Trout Creek at Bergland, Big Bay de Noc at Bark River, Eben at Republic, Ironwood Catholic at Mellen, Wis., Butternut, Wis., at Marenisco, Trenary at Rock, White Pine at Wakefield.

Thursday—Hancock at Houghton, Marinisco at White Pine.

Friday—Escanaba at Kingsford, Gladstone at Marquette, Newberry at Sault Ste. Marie, L'Anse au Loup, Menominee at Holy Name, Gwinn at Crystal Falls, West Iron at Iron Mountain, Ironwood at Bessemer, Ishpeming at Negaunee, Painesdale at Ontonagon, Pickford at Rudyard, St. Ignace at Rogers City, Baraga at Ewen-Trout Creek, Eben at Big Bay de Noc, Rock at Bark River, DeTour at Brimley, Carney at Felch, Cheboygan Catholic at Cedarville, Champion at Pembine, Wis., Channing at National Mine, Chassell at Trenary, Lake Linden at Dollar Bay, Sault Lorette at Engadine, Hermansville at Republic, Waternet at Ironwood Catholic, Wakefield at Ashland, Wis.

Saturday—Ironwood at West Iron, Manistique at Rudyard, Stephenson at Crivitz, Wis., Brimley at Cheboygan Catholic, Hillman at Cedarville.

City Cage Fives Notch Victories

Tom's Signs and Robinson's picked up victories in City League basketball action Monday night, defeating the Jets and the Stone House respectively.

Wally Slade's 24 points led Tom's Signs to an 84-72 romp over the Jets, despite Harry Johnson's 23-point performance for the losers. Robinson's got 19 points from Bob Grenier to up-end the Stone House 69-61. Cliff O'Donnell paced the Stone House with 18 points.

Clemente Signs For 16th Season

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates announced Monday the signing of outfielder Roberto Clemente for his 16th year with the National League baseball club.

Clemente, who was the second best hitter in the league last year with .345, holds a lifetime average of .314. He was the league's most valuable player in 1966.

Former Lion Elected To Grid Hall Of Fame

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Jack Christiansen, leader of the defensive backfield unit that helped the Detroit Lions win four divisional titles and three league championships, has been elected with three other players to the Professional Football Hall of Fame.

The others are running back Hugh McElhenry, who played briefly with the Lions, and ends Tom Fears of Los Angeles and Pete Pihos of Philadelphia.

Dick Gallagher, director of the Hall of Fame, announced Monday the result of the voting by a board of selectors from pro football cities who met in New Orleans the day after the Super Bowl.

The four new members will be inducted formally in ceremonies Aug. 8 in Canton prior to the annual Hall of Fame exhibition game, which this year will pit the New Orleans Saints Against the Minnesota Vikings. The Saints are coached by Fears.

Christiansen, graduate of Colorado State University, played for Detroit from 1951 through 1958. Despite his prowess in the secondary, he also was an outstanding punt return specialist and still holds the single season record return average of 21.47 yards set in 1952.

A head coach of the San Francisco 49ers for five years, Christiansen is now on the coaching staff at Stanford University.

McElhenry spent his peak years with the 49ers after being their No. 1 draft choice out of the University of Washington in 1952. He also played with Minnesota, then Detroit, in a 13-year career stretching through the 1964 season.

His 10.68-yard average on combined attempts rushing, receiving, returns and interceptions—made in 1952—stands second on the all-time National Football League record list. He now handles color for the 49ers' radio broadcasts.

Fears played for the Los Angeles Rams for nine years and led the league in pass receiving his first three seasons. He teamed up with Norm Van Brocklin on a 73-yard bomb that gave the Rams its only league title in 1951.

Pihos spent his entire pro career with the Philadelphia Eagles as a two-way end in 1947 and starred for the 1948 and 1949 championship teams. He is currently a business executive in Richmond, Va.

Three Mishaps Recorded Here

Public Safety officers report three minor mishaps, credited to extremely slippery roads, which happened in the city over the weekend.

At 3:20 Friday afternoon a car driven by Holger J. Grunlund, Quinnesec, was turning off Maple St. onto E. Elk when a car driven by Camilla K. Ray, 400 E. Lakeshore Dr., struck the Grunlund vehicle in the side. A third motorist, Lane A. Blandford, Rte. 1, in turn struck the Ray automobile. Both the Ray and Blandford vehicles were unable to stop because of icy roads, they told officers.

At 7:15 Friday night, John S. Faketty, Rte. 1, slid across the centerline at the Cedar-Walnut Sts. intersection and struck a passing vehicle driven by Edward D. Lancour, Gulliver.

Mrs. Rose Mary Smith, Rte. 1, was cited for failure to have vehicle under control after her car struck a parked car owned by Willard W. Gentz of Newberry. The mishap occurred in the 600 block of Garden Ave. at 8:35 Saturday night, city police said. Mrs. Smith said she lost control of her car when she reached for her child on the front seat.

No tickets were issued in a two-car mishap investigated by Michigan State Police Saturday morning at 11:15. Anthony M. Musso, Park Ridge, Ill., said he didn't see the turn signals of a vehicle ahead of him and struck the car, driven by Howard C. Quibell, Cooks, on the right side while attempting to pass. The accident happened on U.S. 2 in Inwood Township.

Meet Scheduled For Landowners

The first meeting of the Landowners' Short Course will get under way tonight at 7:30 in the high school auditorium. Three outside resource people will be on hand to lead the discussion.

There is no charge for the course which is designed primarily for the small land owner with from three to 100 acres of land.

THE ENGAGEMENT of their daughter, Amy Jo, to Jamie Moffat is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Olson, Intake Park Rd. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Moffat, 235 Range St. Miss Olson is a 1968 graduate of Manistique High School and a sophomore at Northern Michigan University. Her fiancé, a 1967 graduate of Manistique High School, is a junior at Central Michigan University, Mount Pleasant. No date has been set for the wedding.

Briefly Told

Sloppy Joes on homemade buns, buttered green beans, fruit and beverage is the hot lunch menu Wednesday at the Manistique Area Schools.

State police ticketed the following motorists over the weekend: Cynthia Frenette, Rte. 1, Gulliver, no operator's license; Leslie Bindschattel, Flint, speeding; Steve Zellar, Germfask, overwidth load on truck; Larry O. Smith, Fayette, no insurance on vehicle and no vehicle registration; Thomas G. Miller, Cooks, no registration certificate; Nicholas M. Wehner, 101 Lake St., speeding.

Thirty-seven elementary school youngsters registered Saturday morning for beginning ski instruction, City Recreation Director Richard Bonifas said. The children will receive ski instruction on the city slopes for the next four Saturdays beginning at 9:30 a.m. Raymond Maynard, with an assist from Fred Caya Jr., is conducting the instruction.

Anyone know how to splice rope? Get in touch with City Recreation Director Dick Bonifas who desperately needs to locate a rope splicer. Some repairs must be made to the ski rope and, consequently, the ski tow will not be operating until the repairs can be made.

Troopers report a car driven by Allen J. Nichol, Oconto, Wis., struck and killed a deer on U.S. 2, Garden Township, at 11:20 p.m. Sunday.

Soldier Dies

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — The Defense Department Monday announced one Michigan man was killed in action in the Vietnam war.

The victim was identified as Pfc. John J. Pollack, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Pollack of Battle Creek.

JUST AS MAILMEN are supposedly dedicated to the "neither wind, hail or storm" bit so are Welcome Wagon hostesses who try and get through, regardless, to greet new area residents. Manistique Race USSA Sanctioned

The Top-O-Lakes Rally will be sponsored by the Manistique Snowmachine Association, not by the American Legion as mentioned in Friday's Daily Press.

The race will be sanctioned by the USSA, not the MISA, and has a guaranteed purse of $4,000, not $2,000.

The entry cost is $20 plus a $1.50 insurance fee paid during registration, not $25 as reported in the Press.

Meat Packers Dislike State Labeling Rule

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Hearings have been postponed on a federal court suit filed by three of the nation's largest meatpackers, who claim Michigan's labeling regulations are too strict.

State Agriculture Director B. Dale Ball and Ronald M. Leach, acting chief of the State Food Inspection Division, were to show cause today why U.S. District Court here should not issue a preliminary injunction suspending Michigan's regulations until the suit is decided.

However, court officials said the hearing has been postponed. No date was set immediately for a hearing on the suit filed by Armour and Co., Wilson & Co., and George A. Hormel & Co.

The three meatpackers contend that Michigan enforces regulations which are more severe than federal standards covering marking, labeling, packaging and contents of wieners, sausage, bologna, frankfurters and meat loaf products.

All three firms said they are meeting federal standards under the Wholesale Meat Act of 1967 but must spend more money to meet Michigan's requirements.

The firms said they will be harmed and will incur further financial losses if Michigan's regulations remain in effect. Armour and Hormel said it cost them an extra $65,825 to meet Michigan regulations in the 10-month period ending last September.

Great Northern Merger Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has approved merger of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads.

In a 7-0 decision the court dismissed objections of the Justice Department and others, holding instead that the merger "further the development of a more efficient transportation unit."

The new company, called the Great Northern Pacific & Burlington, will have assets of $2.8 billion and more than 26,500 miles of track, stretching from Chicago to Seattle and from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico.

The Justice Department had challenged the merger of two healthy directly competing railroads. But the Interstate Commerce Commission had given its blessing after the railroads took steps to protect the Chicago, Milwaukee railroad and workers who would lose their jobs.

States Must Share In Environment Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has unveiled his fiscal 1971 budget plans to save the environment: A five-year program of waste-treatment grants at the 1970 level set by Congress, a determination to spend previously authorized land acquisition funds and a modest boost for air pollution control.

Nixon promised "major proposals to improve and protect our surroundings" in a forthcoming special message to Congress.

The environmental showpiece of his 1971 budget was a $4 billion, five-year program of federal grants to encourage construction of municipal waste treatment facilities.

To qualify, however, states and municipalities will have to come up with $6 billion in matching money.

The $10 billion generated would meet the Interior Department's estimates of the amount needed to clean up the worst of the water pollution caused by municipal wastes.

Stepping up the program to acquire new park, wildlife and recreation lands, Nixon's 1971 budget proposes obligations to spend the full $200 million available to the Land and Water Fund plus $157 million left over in the fund from 1970.

The water pollution programs are administered by the Interior Department, air pollution by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Under the heading of environmental control—another HEW responsibility—Nixon pledged development of criteria toward the limit exposure of workers to coal dust, cotton dust, uranium radiation and noise.

And he promised increased attention to "the protection of the consumer from hazardous radiation from electronic products."

The Interior Department was offered a chance to beautify the landscape with inclusion, for the first time, of a $1 million request for research on placing electric power lines underground.

Newspaper Want Ads are a big sell! One billion, twenty one million was spent on classified ads last year . . . more than for all magazine advertising combined and more than 300 million more than radio advertising.

Presented as a Public Service Every Week By:

Output Of Mechanics Fails To Keep Up With Auto Trend

By JOHN CUNIFF
NEW YORK (AP) — In the 1970s, said the speaker, "the company with the reputation for seeking sales at the expense of public service and for building corporate profits at the expense of social progress will be rejected."

He continued: "The company that appears to have no conscience may be the company that winds up with no customers."

If those words had come from one of the growing number of consumer advocates it might have sounded like a threat that couldn't be fulfilled, like sour grapes or like energy expended on rhetoric instead of action.

The speaker, however, was John J. Riccardo, the new president of Chrysler Corp., fifth largest seller of industrial products in America and a company that occupies 100 million square feet of work space in 16 nations.

Automotive companies, it is safe to say, have been among those which the public has felt were most aggressive about sales and building corporate profits, and perhaps among the most negligent about environment and services.

That the need for change should be so clearly stated is good news for consumers, for a study might show the damage to human health from the irritation and frustration of seeking quality automotive service to be as great as that from some new virus.

Recognition of the automotive service problem was given recently by the National Better Business Bureau, which set up what it calls the BBB Hot Line to deliver complaints directly to Detroit.

The service, which also provides for the automotive firms to send BBB a disposition report on all such complaints, goes to the heart of the business establishment rather than to its fringe.

For many years, it appears, it was assumed by some consumer watchdogs that violations of agreements, poor quality and renegeing on services were largely the work of itinerant peddlers, window salesmen and other doorbell ringers.

In setting up hotline, the BBB puts its finger on one of the chief reasons for the growing number of complaints when it states:

"In the automotive industry . . . the number of motor vehicles on the road increased 91 per cent between 1950 and 1966, but the number of mechanics increased only 21 per cent. This shortage of competent technical personnel has resulted in a heavy workload, particularly at dealerships."

Most critics would say the problem is more complex, but the spreading disparity between the numbers of mechanics and cars does indicate the problems facing automotive manufacturers in the next decade.

In seeking to expedite complaints, BBB hopes that complaints will be handled first at the local bureau and dealer level. If results cannot be obtained, the complaint then is referred to the national bureau.

The National Better Business Bureau then puts the problem directly before a high ranking corporate executive at American, Chrysler, Ford or General Motors, asks for action and requests a report on the action taken.

"The success of the program depends on the quality of the unresolved complaints referred to these top officials," BBB explains. "Only serious problems that cannot be settled at lower levels should be routed through this channel."

Early results have been good, and, viewed more broadly, the hot line does breach what some car owners have long thought was an impenetrable fortress. It is this, rather than the quantity of complaints, that appears to be important.

lems of frightening magnitude," he said.

Milliken cited outmoded expressways, carbon monoxide or smog pollution and loss of residential, recreational or industrial lands as reasons why alternative travel means must be found.

"An inordinate amount of land is developed to transportation," he said and blamed lack of cooperation between the state and communities.

To rectify that, Milliken said cities and counties would be asked to share the costs of the programs—specifically 15 per cent of a $2-million demonstration project. The state would pay all of the $500,000 cost of earlier planning.

The major thrust of Milliken's recommendations for mass transit was a call for greater cooperation between existing agencies.

The Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority, created by the Legislature in 1967, has proposed an 81-mile rail system estimated to cost $1.1 billion, Milliken said, and other reports show the six counties of that area must spend $20 million to maintain existing transportation systems in the next two years.

One of his goals, he said, would be finding new ways to help finance those costs. "Funds for public transportation can no longer come from the farebox," he said.

The CATV operators in Nevada had claimed such regulation of interstate facilities is prohibited by the Constitution unless Congress gives its approval.

They filed an appeal raising the issue in the Supreme Court following a ruling by a three-judge federal court in Nevada that the state could exercise public utility supervision over CATV operations.

The CATV operators are TV Pix, Inc., which owns systems in Elko and Carson City, Nev., and a system which serves State line, Nev., and Tahoe, Calif., and Wells TV, Inc., which operates a system in Wells, Nev.

The Nevada legislature has authorized the state public utility commission to oversee CATV operations in the state. This includes looking into the public need for the service, the operator's financial situation and its ability to perform efficient service.

On the federal level, community antenna television is supervised by the Federal Communications Commission.

The high court, in affirming the decision by the district court in Nevada, did not amplify its reasons.

WINDSOR, Ontario (AP) — Canadian students at the University of Windsor are holding a 10-day "Psych-In" to protest what they call the American take over of their institution.

The event is sponsored by the Windsor Committee on De-Canada-dianization. One of their members said that "last year there were only three Canadian teachers above the rank of instructor in the English Department of 17 members. The rest were Americans."

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

19,000 Men Get Induction Call

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon called today for the drafting of 19,000 men in March.

Next month's request for manpower is the same as February's quota and all will go to the Army.

The Pentagon says a total of 225,000 men are expected to be drafted this year compared with 290,000 in 1969. This averages to about 18,700 per month.
